

30 second spot #1:

May is National Water Safety Month, and insert your company's name here wants to remind you that wherever you and your family swim, be water aware. Follow all the rules and make sure that there is adult supervision. Water safety is everyone's responsibility. For more information, visit NationalWaterSafetyMonth.org.

30 second spot #2:

Nothing's more fun on a warm day than jumping in a pool, whether you're at home, at a local park, or at a waterpark. But while you're having fun, remember that water safety is serious business.

May is National Water Safety Month and insert your company's name here wants to remind you that wherever you and your family swim, be water aware. Follow all the rules and make sure that there is adult supervision. Water safety is everyone's responsibility. For more information, visit NationalWaterSafetyMonth.org.